Plaintiffs Fairfield Sentry Limited (“Sentry”) and Fairfield Sigma Limited (“Sigma”, and collectively, the “Funds”), acting by and through Kenneth Kryss and Joanna Lau, in their capacities as the duly appointed liquidators and foreign representatives (together with their predecessors, the “Foreign Representatives”) of the liquidation proceedings of the Funds, pending before the Commercial Division of the High Court of Justice, British Virgin Islands (the “BVI Court”), through their attorneys Brown Rudnick LLP, for the complaint against Defendants, allege the following based on personal knowledge or information derived from their books and records or from other sources, including, inter alia, court filings and statements of governmental agencies and other parties.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

1. This action and similar actions brought on behalf of and for the Funds by the Foreign Representatives have been commenced by the Foreign Representatives, with the approval of the BVI Court, to recover payments made by the Funds for the redemption of Sentry and Sigma shares prior to December 2008. Sentry and Sigma, along with their affiliate fund, Fairfield Lambda Limited (“Lambda”), were created as a means for private investment in managed accounts established with Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC (“BLMIS”), a broker dealer purportedly providing investment advisory services. Following revelations in December 2008 that Bernard L. Madoff (“Madoff”), the proprietor of BLMIS, had been operating a Ponzi scheme, the Funds were involuntarily put into liquidation in proceedings commenced in the Commercial Division of the High Court of Justice, British Virgin Islands.

2. From the Funds' inception until the disclosure of Madoff's fraud, substantially all investor funds, net of fees and expenses, raised by Sentry and Sigma through the sale of shares were transferred to BLMIS for investment in accounts managed by Madoff. Prior to December 2008, the voting, participating shares of Sentry, $.01 par value per share, and Sigma, €.01 par value per share, (the "Shares") were redeemable in accordance with their terms for a price equal to their "Net Asset Value." Net Asset Value was to be determined, in accordance with applicable accounting standards, as the value of the respective assets of Sentry and Sigma divided by the number of shares outstanding in each fund, net of certain expenses (“Net Asset Value”). From time to time, in order to make payments believed by the Funds to be due upon redemption of Shares (“Redemption Payments”), the Funds made withdrawals from their BLMIS accounts.

3. At all relevant times, the Funds believed payments received by them from BLMIS were the proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the accounts of the Funds. The Funds furthermore believed that the amount, per share, paid by them for each Share redeemed was equal to the per share Net Asset Value.

4. At all relevant times, the Funds were mistaken both as to the source of the funds received by them from BLMIS and the value and existence of assets held for the Funds’ accounts by BLMIS. Upon information and belief, none of the securities shown on statements provided to the Funds by BLMIS as being held for their accounts existed in fact. Furthermore, upon information and belief, amounts withdrawn by the Funds from their accounts with BLMIS, believed by the Funds to be the proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the Funds, were, in fact, derived from amounts obtained by BLMIS from deposits made by the Funds, or from other investors and customers of BLMIS. As a result of these mistakes, at all relevant times, the Net Asset Value of each Share redeemed was miscalculated, and Redemption Payments were mistakenly made for amounts far in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of Shares redeemed.

5. During the period from and after November 16, 2004 through November 19, 2008, the Funds made Redemption Payments aggregating USD $46,911,832.58 to Dexia BIL for Customer Account (“Dexia BIL”). At the time such payments were made, the Funds mistakenly believed that such payments were in the amount of the Net Asset Value of the Shares tendered at the time of redemption. In fact, however, the Redemption Payments made to Dexia BIL far exceeded the actual Net Asset Value of the Shares redeemed. Moreover, to the extent that the funds used to pay such Redemption Payments were made with amounts that had been withdrawn by the Funds from their BLMIS accounts, such amounts were not, as the Funds believed them to be, proceeds of the liquidation of securities held for their accounts. On information and belief, any amounts obtained by the Funds from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to Dexia BIL were obtained from Sentry and Sigma investors other than Dexia BIL or other investors who had made deposits, directly or indirectly, with BLMIS.

6. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL has either retained the Redemption Payments made to it by the Funds for its own account and benefit or, alternatively, paid all or some portion of such payments to or for the account of persons or entities for whom Dexia BIL may have subscribed for shares of the Funds in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, nominee or custodian.

7. In December 2008, it became known to the Funds that BLMIS had been operated for many years by Madoff as a massive Ponzi scheme and that account statements rendered by BLMIS prior to December 2008, showing that the Funds had securities having a market value in excess of $6 billion on account with BLMIS, were entirely fictitious. Following the revelation of the fraud, the Funds' board of directors suspended any further redemptions of the Funds' shares and the calculation of the Net Asset Value. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry and Sigma have, respectively, approximately 4.7 million and 3.9 million shares outstanding.

8. The Funds' actual assets are estimated to be far less than the amount needed by the Funds to satisfy claims that have been or may be asserted against them. Irving H. Picard, the Trustee appointed by the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York for Investment Securities LLC and Bernard L. Madoff, pending in this Court under the caption Securities Investor Protection Corporation v. Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC, SIPA Liquidation No. 08-1789 (BRL). Pursuant to the standing order of reference of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York, dated July 10, 1984, all proceedings arising in, arising under and/or related to cases under Title 11 of the United States Code (as amended, the “Bankruptcy Code”) are referred to this Court for adjudication.

11. This is a core proceeding under 28 U.S.C. § 157(b)(2). Should the Court determine this to be a non-core proceeding, Plaintiffs consent to entry of final judgment and order by this Court.

12. This Court has jurisdiction over Dexia BIL and any Beneficial Shareholders pursuant to Rules 7004(d) and (f) of the Federal Rules of Bankruptcy Procedure (the “Bankruptcy Rules”) because Dexia BIL and the Beneficial Shareholders, on information and belief, conducted investment transactions from within or directed to the United States.

13. Moreover, this Court has jurisdiction over Dexia BIL and any Beneficial Shareholders by virtue of the legally binding and valid agreements and representations set forth in one or more Subscription Agreements Dexia BIL entered into with the Funds (collectively, the “Subscription Agreement”).

14. The Subscription Agreement provides for, inter alia, the irrevocable submission by Dexia BIL to the jurisdiction of the New York courts with respect to any proceeding in respect of the Funds and Dexia BIL’s consent to service of process by the mailing of such process to Dexia BIL. Furthermore, by executing the Subscription Agreement, Dexia BIL agreed to all terms and conditions contained therein, including the express provision that any agreement made by Dexia BIL in the Subscription Agreement would also apply to any other

PARTIES

17. Sigma, a British Virgin Islands company, was organized in 1990 under the International Business Company Act of the British Virgin Islands and was subsequently re-registered as a business company under the BVI Business Companies Act 2004. Sigma's registered agent is Codan Trust company (B.V.I.) located at Romasco Place, Wickhams Cay 1, Road Town, Tortola, BVI. Sigma is currently in liquidation in proceedings commenced on April 21, 2009, in the BVI Court. This action and other similar actions brought on behalf of and for the Funds, as well as their related fund, Fairfield Lambda Limited, by the Foreign Representatives have been commenced by the Foreign Representatives with the authorization of the BVI Court.

18. Defendant Dexia BIL was, at all relevant times, a registered holder of Shares. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL is a corporate entity organized under the laws of Luxembourg and having its registered address at 69 Route D'Esch, L-2953 Luxembourg, Luxembourg. Dexia BIL subscribed for the purchase of Shares by entering into one or more Subscription Agreements with the Funds (collectively, the "Subscription Agreement"). All purchases of Shares by Dexia BIL were subject to the terms of the Subscription Agreement.

19. Defendants "Beneficial Owners of the Accounts Held in the Name of Dexia BIL for Customer Account 1-1000" are any persons or entities having a beneficial ownership or interests in Shares of the Funds issued to Dexia BIL and on whose behalf Dexia BIL was acting as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee (individually, a "Beneficial Shareholder" and collectively, "Beneficial Shareholders").

NOTICE PURSUANT TO FED. R. CIV. P. 44.1

20. Issues to be resolved in this case may be determined to be governed by the laws of the British Virgin Islands. In that event, Plaintiffs intend to rely upon the applicable laws of that territory.

FACTUAL ALLEGATIONS

21. Sentry was the largest of all so-called "feeder funds" to maintain accounts with BLMIS. Sigma and Lambda were indirect BLMIS feeder funds established for foreign currency (respectively, Euro and Swiss franc) investment through purchase of shares of Sentry. Sentry's account statements with BLMIS as of the end of October 2008 showed in excess of $6 billion of assets supposedly held by BLMIS. As stated in its offering materials, Sentry's investment objective was to achieve capital appreciation of its assets primarily through investments in BLMIS. Sentry raised funds for investment in BLMIS by selling its Shares, which were listed on the Irish Stock Exchange in Dublin, to qualified investors.

22. Substantially all of the funds (some 95%) raised by Sentry from sales of its Shares, net of fees and expenses, were turned over to BLMIS, and supposedly credited to accounts held in the name of Sentry with BLMIS, purportedly for use in a split-strike conversion investment strategy. In accordance with the Funds' Articles of Association and other relevant documents governing the Funds and their Shares, from time to time, the Funds paid to shareholders, for each Share tendered for redemption, an amount that was based on the Funds' Net Asset Value, as it was then calculated.

23. In calculating Net Asset Value, the Funds used and relied upon account statements rendered from time to time by BLMIS purportedly showing securities or interests or rights in securities held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry. Generally, all securities identified on BLMIS account statements were traded on public exchanges and had readily ascertainable market values.

24. Upon information and belief, the purchases and sales of securities and other transactions shown on the account statements provided by BLMIS as having been made for the account of Sentry never in fact occurred and no investments were ever made by BLMIS for the account of Sentry. Upon information and belief, all assets shown on BLMIS account statements rendered to the Funds were entirely fictitious. Further, upon information and belief, amounts deposited by the Funds with BLMIS for the purchase of securities to be held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry were used by Madoff to pay requests for payments or redemptions from other BLMIS account holders or were misappropriated by Madoff for other unauthorized uses.

25. From time to time, to make Redemption Payments, the Funds requested payments from BLMIS. The Funds believed that the amounts provided to it in response to such requests represented proceeds from the sale or liquidation of securities or positions held for the account of Sentry. Upon information and belief, however, payments made by BLMIS purportedly representing the proceeds of securities transactions were in fact deposits made with BLMIS by the Funds and/or other investors with BLMIS.

26. During the period from and after November 16, 2004 through November 19, 2008, Dexia BIL received Redemption Payments totaling USD $46,911,832.58 from the Funds in respect of Shares tendered for redemption. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by Dexia BIL from Sentry are set forth on Exhibit A. The dates and amounts of each Redemption Payment received by Dexia BIL from Sigma are set forth on Exhibit B. Dexia BIL did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for the Redemption Payments received by it. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL and/or the Beneficial Shareholders received and retained Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by such person(s) for purchase of their Shares.

27. On December 11, 2008, the FBI arrested Madoff for violation of federal securities laws. On that same day, the United States Attorney brought criminal charges against Madoff, alleging that Madoff ran a multi-billion dollar Ponzi scheme. United States v. Madoff, No. 08-mj-2735 (S.D.N.Y. filed Dec. 11, 2008). Upon arrest, Madoff was reported to have told the agents that “there is no innocent explanation” for the fraudulent scheme he had orchestrated and confessed that he “paid investors with money that wasn’t there.” Although Madoff had purported to invest funds obtained from investors and feeder funds in securities, in reality, funds obtained from investors were not used to purchase securities. Instead, new funds obtained from investors,

29. Following the revelation of the fraud, the Funds' boards of directors suspended any further redemptions of Sentry or Sigma shares and the calculation of the Net Asset Value. As of December 2008 and presently, Sentry and Sigma had, respectively, approximately 4.7 million and 3.9 million shares outstanding.

31. On May 18, 2009, the BLMIS Trustee commenced the BLMIS Adversary Proceeding against Sentry and other defendants. In the BLMIS Adversary Proceeding, the BLMIS Trustee seeks to recover approximately $3.5 billion from Sentry and others on account of transfers that BLMIS allegedly made to Sentry and other persons during the six year period preceding the filing of the BLMIS liquidation proceedings. These transfers are alleged by the BLMIS Trustee to have been preferential transfers under Section 547 of the Bankruptcy Code and/or fraudulent transfers under Sections 544 and 548 of the Bankruptcy Code and applicable state law. The BLMIS Adversary Proceeding is currently pending and the claims asserted therein are unresolved.

32. On April 21, 2009, shareholders of Sentry and Sigma applied to the BVI Court for the appointment of a liquidator over each of Sentry and Sigma. On July 21, 2009, Messrs. Kenneth Krys and Christopher Stride were appointed by the BVI Court as the joint liquidators of Sentry and Sigma (the "Liquidators") in their separate liquidation proceedings, under Matter Nos. BVIHCV2009/136 and BVIHCV2009/139, respectively, which are currently pending before the BVI Court under Part VI, titled "Liquidation," of the Insolvency Act, 2003 of the BVI. Effective on September 8, 2010, in accordance with BVI law, Christopher Stride resigned from his position as official liquidator for Sentry and Sigma and was replaced by Ms. Joanna Lau, who now serves, along with Mr. Krys, as joint liquidator and the Foreign Representative of and for Sentry and Sigma.

33. Upon appointment, the Liquidators obtained, among other things, custody and control of the Funds' assets, the power to do all acts and execute, in the name and on behalf of the Funds, any deeds, receipts or other documents, and the power to compromise claims, commence litigation and to dispose of property on behalf of the Funds.

34. Acting in accordance with authority afforded to them as Liquidators, and with the consent of the BVI Court, the Liquidators authorized this and similar actions against redeeming shareholders to be commenced for and in the name of the Funds.

FIRST CLAIM

35. The Funds repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 34 above as if set forth herein.

36. As alleged above, to the extent amounts were withdrawn from BLMIS to make Redemption Payments to Dexia BIL, such withdrawn funds consisted of funds deposited with BLMIS by the Funds and other investors and were not, as the Funds mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

37. Dexia BIL did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for the Redemption Payments received by it.

38. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL received and retained Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by it for the purchase of Shares.

39. By reason of its receipt of funds deposited by other investors with BLMIS, Dexia BIL has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.

40. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Dexia BIL to retain the Redemption Payments it received from the Funds.

41. Sentry is entitled to recover from Dexia BIL a sum equal to the Redemption Payments received by it from the Funds.

(Unjust Enrichment-Against Beneficial Shareholders)

43. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreement in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for Beneficial Shareholders.

45. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for the Redemption Payments received by them.

47. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholders to retain the Redemption Payments made by the Funds.

48. The Funds are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders a sum equal to the portion of any Redemption Payments received by them in respect of their interests in Shares of the Funds held by them through Dexia BIL.

THIRD CLAIM
(Money Had and Received-Against Dexia BIL)

49. The Funds repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 48 above as if set forth herein.

50. As alleged above, the Redemption Payments received by Dexia BIL upon the tender of Shares consisted of amounts deposited with BLMIS by the Funds and other investors to BLMIS and were not, as the Funds mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

51. By reason of its receipt of funds representing the deposits with BLMIS of the Funds and other investors, Dexia BIL has been unjustly enriched to the detriment of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.

52. Furthermore, Dexia BIL was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts of the Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Dexia BIL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of such Shares.

53. To the extent that Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Funds, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne by the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of shares in the Funds.

54. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Dexia BIL to retain the Redemption Payments it received from the Funds.

55. By reason of the foregoing, the Funds are entitled to recover from Dexia BIL a sum in an amount equal to the Redemption Payments.

FOURTH CLAIM
(Money Had and Received-Against Beneficial Shareholders)

56. The Funds repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 55 above as if set forth herein.

57. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL may have subscribed to all or some portion of the Shares issued to it under the Subscription Agreement in the capacity of trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for Beneficial Shareholders.

58. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL may have paid to or credited some or all of the Redemptions Payments received by it to accounts of Beneficial Shareholders. As alleged above, any payments received by Beneficial Shareholder upon the redemption of Shares issued to Dexia BIL consisted of amounts deposited with BLMIS by the Funds or by other investors and were not, as the Funds mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

59. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for Redemption Payments received by them.

60. Upon information and belief, some or all of the Beneficial Shareholders received and retained Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by them for the purchase of Shares.

61. To the extent that a Beneficial Shareholder received any portion of the Redemption Payments paid to Dexia BIL in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or

68. Upon information and belief, however, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to Dexia BIL represented, in fact, funds deposited with BLMIS by the Funds and other investors.

69. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting Dexia BIL, were made to the detriment of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of their Shares.

70. Additionally, Dexia BIL was not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because, as was unknown to the Funds, the amounts transferred by the Funds with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Dexia BIL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of such Shares. In these circumstances, the Redemption Payments should be returned for the benefit of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.

71. Dexia BIL did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for the Redemption Payments received by it.

72. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL received and retained Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by it for the purchase of Shares.

73. To the extent the Redemption Payments are not recovered by the Funds, the loss will be disproportionately and unjustly borne solely by the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.

74. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Dexia BIL to retain the Redemption Payments.

75. By reason of the foregoing, the Funds are entitled to recover from Dexia BIL a sum in an amount equal to the Redemption Payments.

SIXTH CLAIM
(Mistaken Payment-Against Beneficial Holders)

76. The Funds repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 75 above as if set forth herein.

77. As described above, the Funds made each of the Redemption Payments to Dexia BIL under the mistaken belief that the amounts paid to Dexia BIL represented the proceeds of the sale of securities held for Sentry in accounts established with BLMIS.

78. However, upon information and belief, BLMIS did not hold any securities or interests of securities on account for Sentry and the payments made by BLMIS to Sentry to fund Redemption Payments to Dexia BIL represented, in fact, amounts deposited with BLMIS by the Funds and other investors.

79. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL may have paid to or credited some or all of the redemptions payments received by it to accounts of Beneficial Shareholders. As alleged above, any payments received by Beneficial Shareholders upon the redemption of shares issued to Dexia BIL consisted of amounts deposited with BLMIS by the Funds and other investors and were not the proceeds of the sale of assets held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

80. Additionally, Beneficial Shareholders were not entitled to receive any portion of the Redemption Payments received by Dexia BIL upon the redemption of Shares issued to it in its capacity as trustee, agent, representative, or nominee for Beneficial Shareholders because, as was unknown to the Funds, the amounts transferred by the Funds with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the Redemption Payments received by Dexia BIL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of such Shares.

81. The Beneficial Shareholders did not provide valuable consideration to the Funds in exchange for the Redemption Payments received by them.

82. Upon information and belief, some or all of the Beneficial Shareholders received and retained Redemption Payments in excess of amounts paid by them for the purchase of Shares.

83. The Redemption Payments, while benefiting any Beneficial Shareholder receiving any portion thereof, were made to the detriment of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of their Shares.

84. It would thus offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit any Beneficial Shareholder to retain the Redemption Payments.

85. By reason of the foregoing, the Funds are entitled to recover from any Beneficial Shareholders a sum equal to the portion of any Redemption Payments received by them in respect of their interests in Shares of the Funds held for them through Dexia BIL.

SEVENTH CLAIM
(Constructive Trust-Against all Defendants)

86. The Funds repeat and allege again the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 85 above as if set forth herein.

87. As described above, upon receipt of a redemption request, the Funds made each redemption payment to Dexia BIL based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused Redemption Payments to be in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of redeemed Shares.

88. As alleged above, the Redemption Payments represented deposits with BLMIS made by the Funds and other investors and were not, as the Funds mistakenly believed, proceeds from the sale of securities held by BLMIS for the account of Sentry.

89. Upon information and belief, Dexia BIL may have paid some or all of the Redemptions Payments it received to Beneficial Shareholders.

90. By reason of their receipt of some or all of the Redemption Payments, Defendants have been unjustly enriched to the detriment of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.

91. Furthermore, Defendants were not entitled to receive the Redemption Payments because the amounts transferred by the Funds with respect to these Redemption Payments were based on a miscalculated and inflated Net Asset Value, which caused the payment received by Dexia BIL for its redemption of Shares to be in excess of the actual Net Asset Value of such Shares.

92. It would offend principles of equity and good conscience to permit Defendants to retain the Redemption Payments.

93. By reason of the foregoing, a constructive trust should be imposed on the Redemption Payments that were received by Defendants for the benefit of the Funds, their creditors and the current holders of Shares in the Funds.
